

I am appalled at the superbowl half-time show my children viewed. Not only was Janet's flash obscene but the lyrics of KidRock talked of methamphetamines, hookers, and jailtime as if though these were admirable things to occur. Somebody has got to take control of what is on the public airwaves. Radio stations are now allowed to use curse words, sex is everywhere on public air waves. No wonder we have kids and teens so confused as to what is right and what is wrong. It is absurd to me that one cannot be seen taking a drink of an alcoholic beverage but everything else is Ok. Please do something to get this under control.

Thanks,
